TURF VALLEY RESORT ANNOUNCES COMPLETION OF MILESTONE HOTEL RENOVATION PROJECT TO COMMEMORATE 40TH ANNIVERSARY

Ellicott City, MD (May 10, 2017) – Turf Valley Resort announces a multi-million-dollar renovation to their on-site hotel, which features 172 guest rooms and suites, as well as an American fusion restaurant, spa and two private golf courses.

Renovations to the property include:

- Renovation of 128 hotel room restrooms, which include updated marble vanities with backlit electric mirrors, magnifying mirrors, and sliding shower enclosures
- 40-inch flat-screen televisions in all guest rooms
- Complete redesign of all hotel corridors, including hotel elevator landing areas
- Updated kitchen and bathroom areas in all Hospitality Suites
- Newly renovated ADA-compliant rooms, including roll-in ADA showers and increasing the number of accessible rooms
- All renovations followed guidelines to our commitment to the environment and met commercial requirements
- New entryway into “The Garden,” Turf Valley’s outdoor wedding ceremony space

“The guest room redesign brings a new element of boutique sophistication to the property, further establishing Turf Valley Resort as an ideal romantic getaway, wedding destination, or conference center,” said Joanne Mangione, Turf Valley’s Interior Designer.

First Finish, Inc. completed all general contracting work in time for the opening of Turf Valley’s 2017 season. Turf Valley, privately-owned-and-operated by the Mangione Family, completed renovations just as the Mangione Family enters their 40th year of owning the property. Prior to their opening, Turf Valley once operated as a thoroughbred horse farm, and as part of the original Doughoregan Manor owned by Charles Carroll.

“We are excited to offer our guests updated and new features,” said Jeff Zetlmeisl, Assistant General Manager of the resort. “With these renovations, we are securing our position as the premier destination meeting and event venue in the Mid-Atlantic Region.”
